Agreement signed between the Communications Undersecretary of the Communications and Transports Secretary and the Federal Telecommunications Institute.

On October 9, 2014 was signed an agreement between the Communications Under Minister of the Communications and Transports Ministry and the Federal Telecommunications Institute, to coordinate efforts to guarantee the installation of the Shared Public Telecommunications Network that the Constitution contemplates to be in operation no later than 2018.

Specifically it is agreed that:

1. The Communications and Transports Ministry is responsible for the design, installation and development of the Shared Public Telecommunications Network thru a Public Private Partnership.
2. The Communications and Transports Ministry will ask and include the Federal Telecommunications Institute recommendations on economic competition.
3. The Federal Telecommunications Institute, who is the responsible to grant the telecommunications concessions, will consider the public policy defined by the Communications and Transports Ministry.
4. Field trials will be completed by January 2015.
5. The Regulatory Policy will be designed by February 2015.
6. The private partner of the Public Private Partnership should be determined by August 2015 thru a public bid.
